Parenting classes at Acorn Hill provide a supportive structure that bridges the family experience from birth to 3, before the child is ready for an independent school experience.

Our parenting programs are built upon the work of Rudolf Steiner (founder of Waldorf education). We also utilize current early childhood research, with attention and respect for the common sense and wisdom of generations of parents. Parents will learn and experience:

- Baking and snack preparation
- Wet-on-wet watercolor painting
- Nature walks to discover the arrival of Spring
- A variety of home-friendly activities
