Boundaries For Your Growing Child

with Nancy Foster master kindergarten teacher

As parents, one of the thorniest issues is setting boundaries, one that may make parents feel as if they need to hire a conflict resolution specialist.

Nancy Foster offers a loving approach to giving healthy limits to provide a sense of security to both parents and their children.

*Nancy Foster taught kindergarten, nursery, and parent/child classes at Acorn Hill Waldorf Kindergarten and Nursery in Maryland for over thirty years. She continues to be active in teacher training, and serves as Membership Coordinator of the Waldorf Early Childhood Association (WECAN) of North America. Nancy is the author of Let Us Form a Ring and Dancing as We Sing, collections of seasonal songs, verses, stories, and rhythmic games, and of In a Nutshell: Dialogues with Parents at Acorn Hill; she recently edited the WECAN publication Seasonal Festivals in Early Childhood: Seeking the Universally Human.*
